Guest Speaker

Zach Yentzer, CEO, Tucson Young Professionals &
Host of Tipping Point with Zach Yentzer (KVOI AM 1030)

*How can we make Tucson a better place for young professionals to live, work, and play?
What kind of professional events, mid-career development, and advocacy initiatives are important to Tucson's young professionals?*

How can seasoned professionals guide them and what can we learn from each other?

Zach Yentzer, CEO, Tucson Young Professionals, works with members who are aged 21 to 45, ranging from prominent community leaders working to elevate Tucson to mid-level risers and transplants trying to find their place within the community to fresh faces preparing for the road ahead. TYP's mission is to retain, attract, and promote young professionals in Tucson. It is a group of diverse young professionals working together to showcase Tucson as a place for growth and prosperity. TYP is a place for the next generation of business and community leaders to share their ideas, test their insight, and participate in dynamic conversation. The focus of the organization is to provide members with opportunities to build relationships with the local community and its leaders and inspire like-minded professionals into making Tucson a better place to live, work and play.

Tipping Point is a daily drivetime morning talk show featuring in-depth news and talk about the people, ideas and issues shaping Tucson and Southern Arizona's future. Zach is a Tucson Storyteller and was named 2019 40under40 Man of the Year.
